

NEW EARTH VISIONING PROJECT

WEEK 1 – THE PERFECT TIME FOR US*May 4, 2021*PRESENTATION – Janice Coyle

The title of this talk is going to be Now is the Perfect Time – what we are doing here.

In fact there has never been a more perfect time in many thousands of years. We are transforming, we are awakening, and the increasingly potent energies present now are supporting us.

So let's look at what is going on with the increased potent energies around us.

The ancient Hindus speak of times of dark and times of light – We are coming out of the years of dark they call Kali Yuga and are coming into the years of light called Satya Yuga or the golden age. with a transition period between these – we are in the transition.

The Mayans, who were expert astronomers also predicted a coming golden age in their calendars and knew the time it took for our solar system to orbit the galaxy as well as when we will come into certain high intensity energy belts and then out of them. Ages of dark and light. Aboriginal shamanic teachers throughout the world have similar stories, based on our place among the stars.

So what is our place among the stars?

Slide 1– page 7

This picture is a rendition of a photon belt – an intense energy system around certain stars in our universe. This intense energy is accumulated from waves emanating from the center of our galaxy.

SLIDE 2 - page 8

The closest star to us that has such an especially immense photon belt is called Alcyone, which is the central star in the Pleiades star system. The Pleiades are also known historically as the 7 sisters because we can see 7 of the stars in this system with our naked eyes. There are actually far more than 7. Scientist believe there are thousands of stars in this system

Alcyone. It is about 8 times the size of our sun. Alcyone is represented here as that large blue ball in the center of the photon belt that looks here like a donut. As you can see, the other stars in the Pleiadian system orbit Alcyone, the central star.

Yes! There are stars that orbit other stars in our galaxy. The central star, Alcyone, in turn orbits the center light of our galaxy, accompanied by her orbiting stars and their planets.

So why is this at all important to envisioning a new earth?

So, look closer and you will see that our solar system, represented here as the red ball at the lower left of the Photon Belt also orbits Alcyone; and, according to Wiktionary.org, (https://en.wiktionary.org/wiki/Citations:photon\_belt) Alcyone is the outermost star of this system. Yes, we are also part of the Pleiadian star system. This rendition here is not proportional. Our sun is far away - about 400 light years away from Alcyone/

This is a real clue, isn't it?, as to why the Pleiades have been so important to the Earth.

The Pleiades stars and their inhabitants have been spoken of throughout history including the Vedic manuscripts, many shaman visionaries throughout the world and especially the Mayans who were great mathematicians, physicist and astronomers.

The photon belt here indicated by the donut shaped object is very important to us. It is made up of streams of photons highly charged with energies.

As you can see It takes our sun around 26,000 years to orbit Alcyone, During the orbit our solar system travels through a portion of the Photon Belt approximately every 13,000 years, passing through it twice during one orbiting cycle.

The earth now is approaching the photon belt and coming into some very high and intense energies. The age of light, the ancients called this. As you can see it will take us 2000 years to cross through the photon belt. While moving through this belt, to quote again from Wiktionary, there is a great quickening of our solar system and on earth that will be transforming. It is the basis for many stories of this as a time of ascension into a new state of body, mind and consciousness, some call the 5th dimension.

So things are speeding up and some say our solar system will be in the Photon Belt by 2025.

Some western scientists call all this into question and believe it is a just new age thing. Maybe that's because our rover cameras cannot photograph the Photon Belt. it is not physical, it's a quantum energy pattern. However ancient peoples all around the world have described this Photon Belt, calculated the time of our sun's entrance and exit of this belt and its incredible effect on the evolution of the earth.

Whatever, there is simply no doubt the energies are greatly increasing now and science is catching up to the point it cannot be denied.

SLIDE 3 – page 9

Here is a photo from the Adler Planetarium showing earth entering a cosmic cloud formation of high energy and you can see the circular shapes similar to the Photon Belt.

SLIDE 4 – page 10

We have other proof of increased energies in our atmosphere. Here is a graph which measures the Schuman Resonance or frequency bands in our upper atmosphere - the outer atmosphere between 50 miles and 500 miles above the earth.

This picture is a typical chart – this one shows the resonance for a day in May 2020. You can see the white colored spikes of intense energy. These spikes used to be infrequent but are definitely showing much more these days. Scientists say these spikes in frequency began to be seem more and more during the past 3 years and the increase is steadily going up.

Slide 5 – page 10

Anyone can go online 24/7 and see an hour by hour graph of the Schumann resonance. This is a screen shot I took yesterday around 12:30pm our time. Some commenters on the site said yesterday set a record. Look at all the white colored high intensity flairs.

So, the energies have increased and are increasing more. The vibrations are getting higher. What is a vibration? The simple definition is the rate of spin. All dynamics in manifestation have an oscillation of some sort, electrons moving around in an atom for example. The faster the spin the more intense the energy. And what does that mean for us? The faster the rate of spin, the greater the energy coming in to us and flowing out from us.

Which means, for example, that our thoughts, which are forms of energy, are stronger and go out faster with more effect. Since our thoughts and imaginations create our reality, our created reality is appearing faster. So our thoughts and imaginings whether positive or negative are being more quickly and more strongly out-pictured. In other words, we are becoming more powerful creators and also more powerful destroyers.

In this group we are going to become aware of this and use it in our lives. We will learn what powerful creators we are by simple observation.

We are in very interesting times with this quickening. Synchronicities are more prevalent. Experiences of things just appearing suddenly are increasing – whether they are surprising positive things or sudden and totally unexpected setbacks, guidance is coming in more quickly and deliberately.

Are you beginning to see why this is the perfect time to do what we will be doing here as a group?

Our solar system is transitioning into an eventual new normal in a higher/quicker energy field and we are doing the same. It's pretty obvious.

We are in a transition phase and transitions are not easy and can be quite confusing. We cling to all that we have had and count on having - all the old ways that need to change. If we really look we can see so many habits and things that cannot sustain in the higher energies we are approaching. In these higher energies, we cannot sustain anger, judgement, greed, possessiveness, division, and so much more.

But on the bright side, we have energies coming in that support our higher selves, our creativity, our spiritual and physical transformation IF we allow the flow of this energy to take us there and come into harmony with the greater positive potentials.

Which brings us to something else – and that is that perfect transformational agent. We call it chaos. There has been so much scientific talk about chaos in the past several decades and how it is circular in its regularity in nature and in everything else.

We can look out now and see a lot of chaos happening around the world. Things are falling apart in many areas of life. Many things don't seem to make sense. Making decisions is difficult because we don't have any surety about the future at all – not like we are used to.

Most of my friends probably 3/4th of them want to move and live somewhere else, only a very few have any idea where they want to go, they just want to go. Go away.

Let's come to understand that chaos is our friend. Uncertainty is our friend because it opens us up to new possibilities. Spiritual teacher, Deepak Chopra, who is also very interested in quantum mechanics, often says: Every great change is preceded by chaos."

That makes a lot of sense doesn't it? Things need to be broken down in order to be rebuilt into something different. That something different can be what we would love to see, or we can go with what someone else wants, or just sit and allow whatever (NOT advised).

I have watched the transforming power of chaos in my life. My twin sister and my late husband, suffered debilitating, bed-ridden illnesses. Both of them lost almost everything they assumed was a part of them... their ability to take care of themselves, their passions and interests, their mobility and freedom, their bodies usefulness, their quick minds, their energy – so much. All was chaos, not knowing what would happen in the next minutes with little resources to deal with it. Both of them after surrendering everything, had incredible awakening experiences and left reflecting more joy than I had ever seen in them – they transformed.

The mystic teachers all say we have to die to our ego selves to find our real selves. The act of dying the ego is chaotic and difficult; but worth it, they have said.

And forest fires- what chaos, then the trees come back more strong and durable than ever. Transformed.

So as Deepak Chopra said, Every great change is preceded by chaos.

So if chaos is a harbinger of transformation, we must be transforming big time, right! Just look at this world, look at some of the things in our own lives. I know a lot of people who want to minimalize, donate and get rid of things they don't need in their homes, lighten up the load. What is happening? Seems like preparation for transformation to me.

Getting rid of the load also means bringing up old issues within ourselves to be seen and healed. This is also what is happening in our world. So much is coming up to be seen. Our environment, our children, our communities and our country, its people, the separations and anger, and so much more.

We are in the best time right now for transformation than we have been in many thousands of years. It is the perfect, perfect time.

We can stand up, be strong in the understanding of why this chaos has to be and what we will do to replace the old and falling systems. How will we rebuild when old systems don't work anymore and there is only chaos? The state of chaos is a fecund and powerful place for envisioning and choosing what will be.

What will be our dream for ourselves and our planet? Will we allow others to choose, or will we stand strong in our power as multidimensional creators of destiny? Will we ascend to a place where Love is Lord by creating it ourselves?

We have been granted free will and free choice as to where we place our beautiful powerful consciousness. We can weather the chaos and stand in our power as we ignite our noble dream of beauty with our strong passion, compassion and perseverance.

And we have each other – our fellow travelers here in one of the most incredible times. We must have chosen or even fought for the privilege to be here now – this time of chaos and transformation where we have the opportunity to enjoy the show and even get to choose how it turns out. What an honor!

The best metaphor for transformation is an animal who has no free will but instead is a beautiful teacher of how to endure the chaos and the amazing transformation it brings.

Slide 6 page 11

The caterpillar covers himself in a confining case made from his own body. And while in the dark cocoon, all his legs and every part of his body breaks down and becomes a slushy liquid. He must think he is dying, no legs, no eyes, no light – nothing! Then, new things grow in the darkness, new eyes, sudden wings, new colors.

Slide 7 page 11

Then after 10 days of darkness, he emerges transformed beyond even our understanding – a beautiful creature with new potentials, new senses, new everything. All because he gracefully surrendered to the time of chaos.

This New Earth visioning project was formed because I was told to do it by something, my higher self, Source, something else it seemed. And the more I get into the things I've been talking about here, the more I understand why I was told to do this.

As I previously said, there have been many synchronicities and help seemingly appearing from the ethers in the form of people, articles, books, words and insights suddenly appearing in my mind. And all this quickly – almost overnight it seems. We are DEFINITELY in a quickening time.

In this time can we create a new world? What I believe in my heart is that we can do this. I know what we really are because I have been there. I forget sometimes, but it is time to constantly remember. Time for all of us to wake and remember we are powerful multidimensional co-creators and this quickening, I believe, will prove it.

Let's work together to get through the chaos but also to use its gifts and envision what we want with all our hearts.

Then we too will emerge from the chaos, as butterflies of our own design. This is not only the perfect time, it is the only time and what a perfect opportunity! We chose to be here at this time where the chances for spiritual growth are so incredible. There is a reason you are here on earth now. There is reason you are with us tonight.

Thank you for being here and listening. I bow to that reason in each of you, whatever it is.

Ok, that's my two cents. I would love to hear yours.

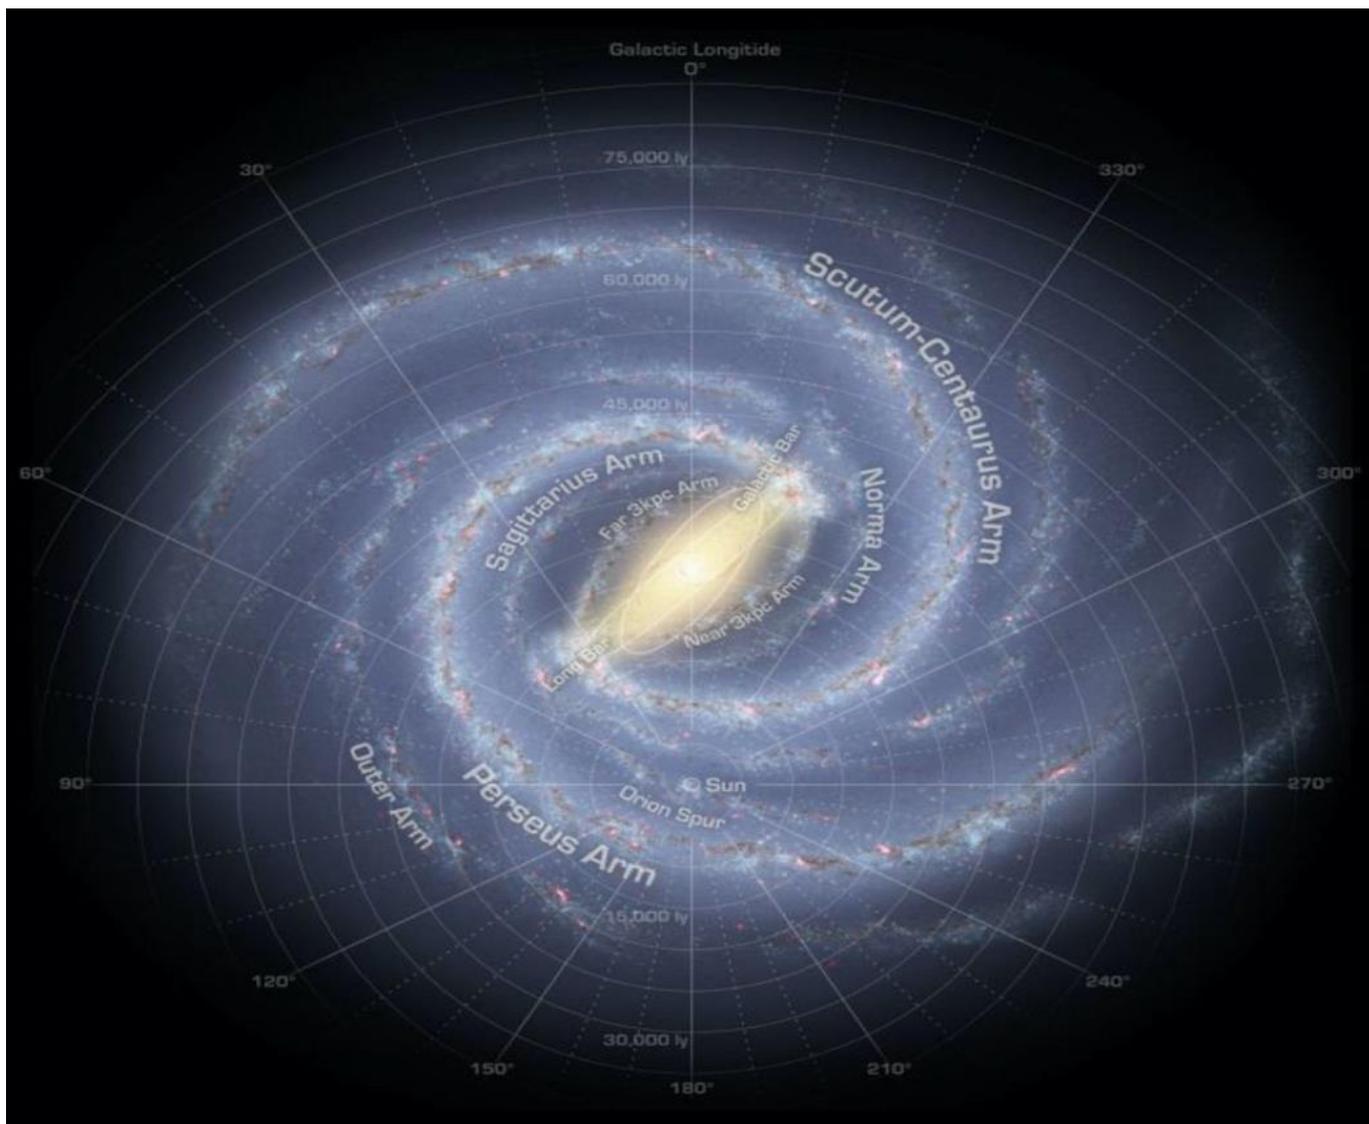

What do you think about any of this?

Do you have any questions?

Also what would you like to get form our meetings?

Do you have any insights, anything you can add to what has been said?
We would love to hear about any transformations you have experienced new attitudes, new insights new interests?
What brought you here tonight?

Slide 1

Reference: Article in discover.hubpages.com

Link: <https://discover.hubpages.com/education/Photon-Belt-or-Golden-Nebula-is-Earths-Ticket-To-Ascension>

Slide 2

From article in UniversalLifeTools.com Website of Simone Mathews

Link: <https://www.universallifetools.com/2010/05/the-photon-belt-2012-the-wave-of-love/#>

SLIDE 3

Our local interstellar environment.

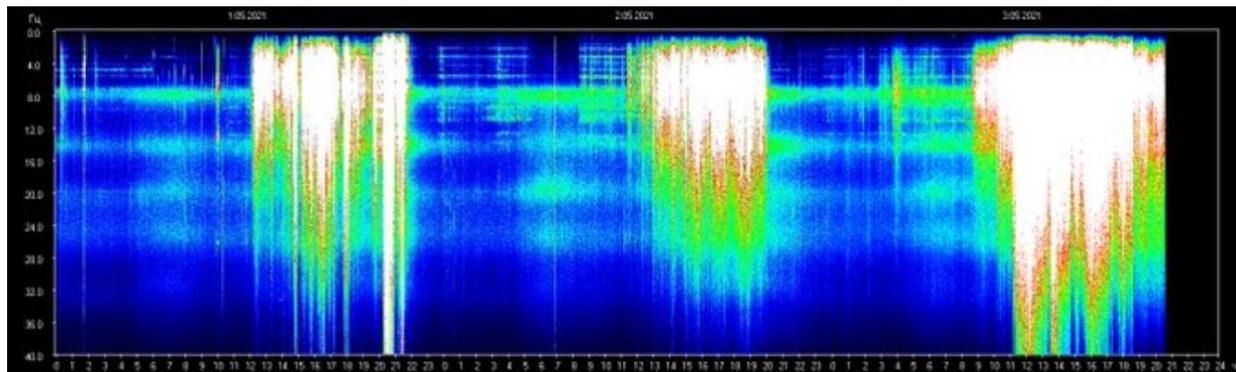

IBEX data shows that our Solar System is currently located within the boundary of the Local Cloud.

Image Credit: IBEX team, M. Paternostro (The Adler Planetarium), Dr. P. Frisch (University of Chicago), Dr. S. Redfield (Wesleyan University)

SLIDE 4

Slide 5

Resources of Slides 4 & 5:

<https://noc.galacticage.org/schumann-resonance/>
https://twitter.com/schumannbot?ref\_src=twsrc%5Egoogle%7Ctwcamp%5Eserp%7Ctwgr%5Eauthor

SLIDE 6

SLIDE 7

